Qualitative Organizational Research Volume 1

A revolutionary new system for generating the next big marketing ideas and opportunities According to Philip Kotler, the widely acknowledged "father" of modern marketing, and Fernando Trias de Bes the marketing techniques pioneered in the 1960s and '70s have worked too well. Fierce competition among products with little or nothing to distinguish one from another, along with modern product positioning and targeted marketing techniques, have led to increasing market segmentation. If the trend continues, individual market segments soon will be too small to be profitable. In Lateral Marketing, Kotler and Trias de Bes unveil a

In this enlightening book, the third in the success series, Dag Heward-Mills writes about the cardinal features of Solomon's success and how it is applicable to our lives today. Also remember that wealth is neutral which means it can be used for good or bad. In the remaining part of the book the author studies the principles Solomon used to take him to these heights of success. Solomon obeyed his father's instructions, he knew the secret of building the temple of God and that it is not possible to build anything unless you have peace and stability. The secret of righteousness lies in asking God to help you discern between good and bad. The last principle is to use your mind. If you become a Christian it doesn't mean you should stop using your mind. God expects you to use your eyes and mind to make decisions. Jesus is not only power to us. He is power and wisdom. When you effectively combine power and wisdom, you will begin to experience Solomonic success.

Over the past five years the Davis Conference on Qualitative Research has welcomed research projects by the very best qualitative, organizational researchers in the world. This conference has helped authors develop and hone theoretical ideas in an environment friendly to qualitative methods, and more importantly, has begun to build a community of qualitative researchers that work on organizational and management issues. The authors winning the "Best Presentation Awards" at the Davis Conference over the past five years have contributed chapters to this volume. The ideas in these chapters were "born" before the conference, but were nurtured through dialogue at the conference, and subsequently matured through later interactions among the community of qualitative scholars associated with the conference. As such, this volume represents the fruits of our collective labor as a qualitative research community. This collective and iterative process is a hallmark of qualitative methods, and often leads to a counterintuitive, "ahhah" experience for the researcher. This volume showcases some of the very best of those ahhah experiences from the organizational, qualitative research community.
